Product Manager. I take products from zero to launch and rebuild ones that already work: SaaS, banking software, medtech. I own the product in full, from strategy and team to release cycle and economics. I work with distributed teams; experience in Belarus, Spain, Russia and the United States.

Education

Belarusian State University Faculty of Journalism, specialization in PR Management

Communications, information and reputation management for organisations:
audience research, planning and evaluation of communication campaigns.

Experience

SRG Plus Product Manager

- Took a new SaaS content management product to market: a cross-platform application and a web version, with the team and the development process built from scratch.
- Reached 50 corporate clients on paid subscriptions within the first year of launch, opening the product's first revenue stream.
- Own the product end to end: strategy and development priorities, product metrics, team composition and process, the release cycle and subscription economics.

Serge Creator Studios Project Manager → Product Manager

- Led the development team and a portfolio of five client products, each with its own development cycle and release schedule.
- Introduced quality control systems across the studio's delivery process: clients began renewing contracts for a second year instead of running one-off projects.
- Launched and led SRG Plus, a product incubated inside the studio and later spun out into a company of its own.

Los Angeles, United States · Remote · 2022 - 2023

Kinez Project Manager

- Won a competitive tender at a Skolkovo resident company to build a mobile product for controlling a prosthetic knee module.
- Launched the application from zero in three months on iOS and Android, took it to public release by month eight and handed the product to the owner.
- Ran two teams in two cities in sync: software in Minsk and hardware in Moscow.

Moscow, Russia · Project · 2022

Appgile SL UX/UI Designer → Project Manager

- Built a product for instant remote car financing and leasing on Banco Santander's lending system: an embeddable widget on the dealer's own site with trade-in valuation, partner insurance quotes and deal approval on the spot.
- Onboarded ten of the largest car dealer groups in the EU within the first year and took the product to thirty countries by month twelve, serving more than 50,000 users.
- Moved from design into project management: established business processes and delivery metrics, and ran the product's integration into partner banks. Joined remotely and relocated to Madrid within three months.

Madrid, Spain · Office · 2019 - 2022

United Company UX/UI Designer

- Designed the interfaces of a corporate CRM system for warehouse volume control and operations management.
- Delivered interface design across the company's enterprise product line: logistics, operational management and customer account portals.
- Designed a new company product, an electric vehicle charging service, later brought to market.
